

Exploring an African perspective in Black Deaf Studies

Dr. Sam Lutalo-Kiingi
Kyambogo University
Uganda

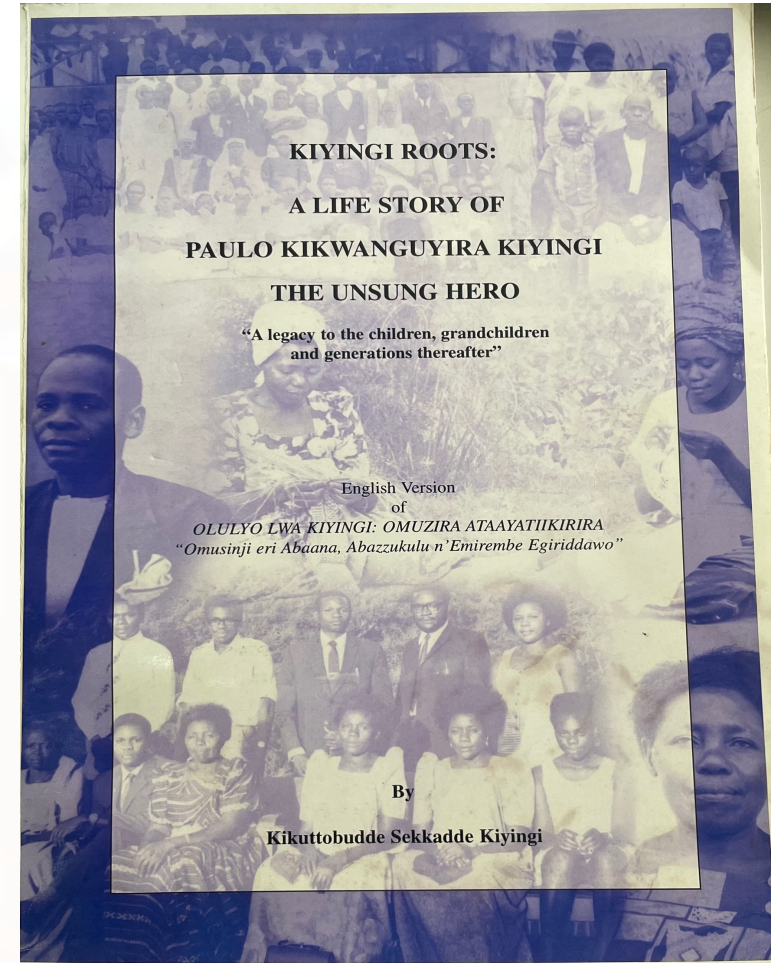

Introducing a post-colonial perspective

Uganda's unique pathway of UgSL and deaf community development

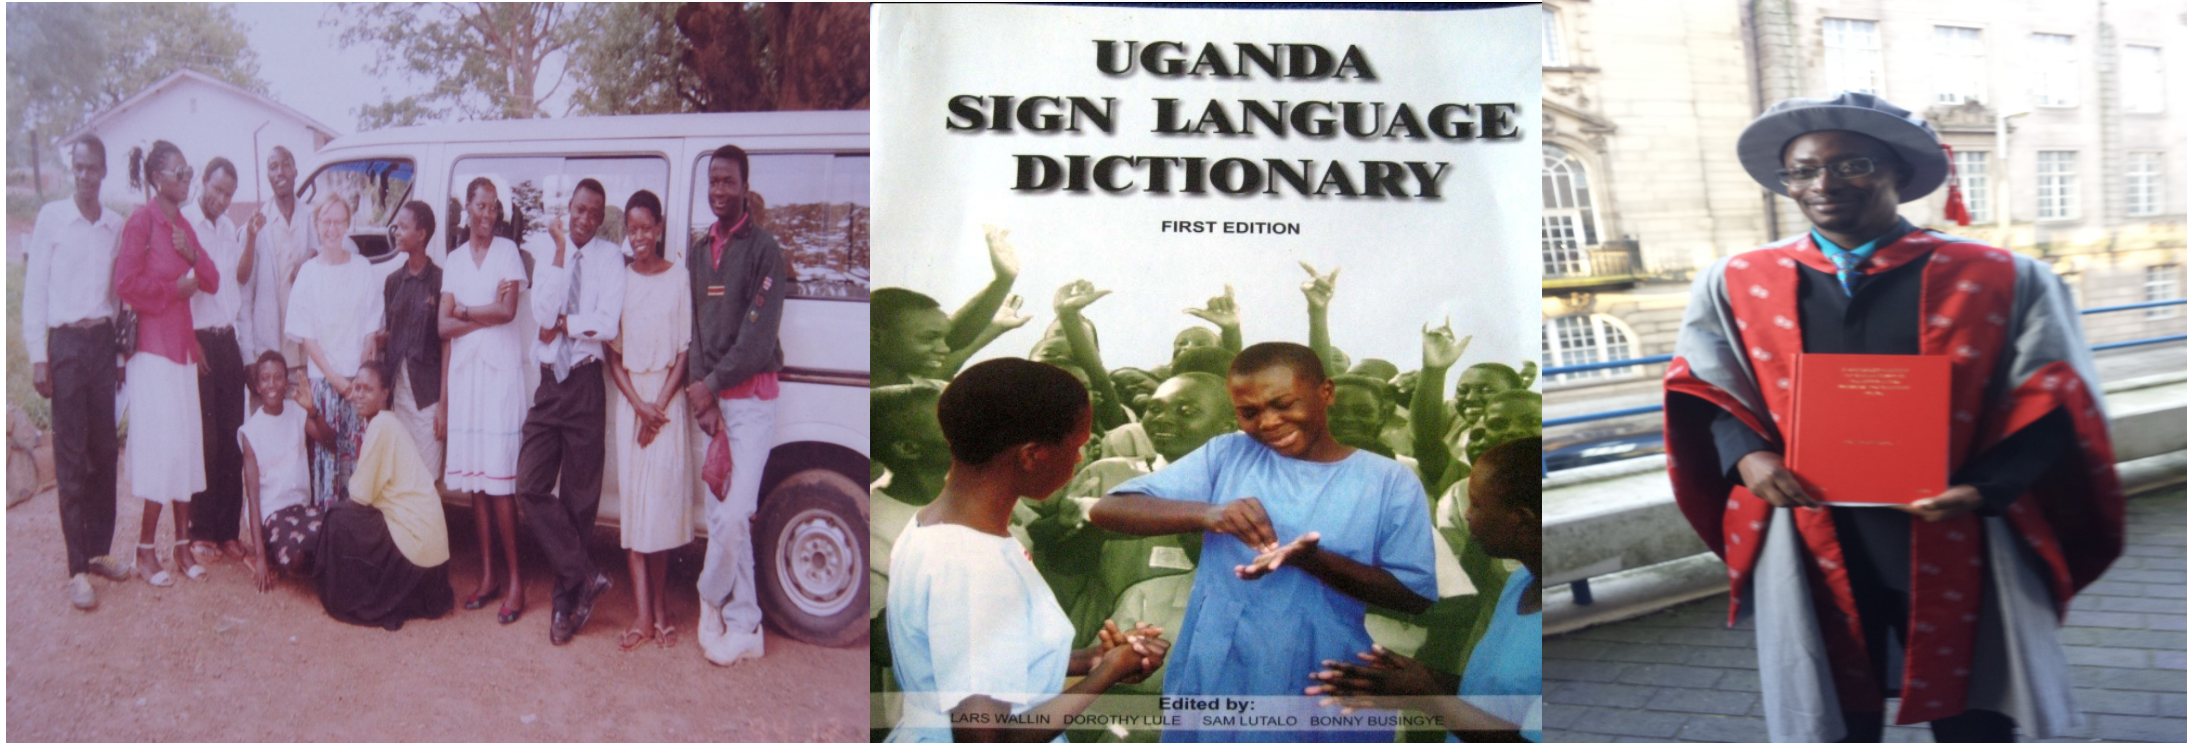

Sam, do you stay or will you go back to Uganda?

Transmitting our cultural legacies

Researching UgSL

Documenting Ugandan Deaf heritage

Documenting UgSL emergence and development

http://www.signlanguageprojects.com/pdf/poster_1.html

UgSL's unique pathway in the context of development and linguistic colonialism

Developing sustainably through partnership

Towards a wider awareness of unique
African deaf histories, cultures, sign languages

Challenges in resources for research and research-based training materials

References & further reading

- Lutalo-Kiingi, S. & De Clerck, G. (in press b). 'The Ugandan deaf community and its history of sign language development: Challenges in the on-going colonialism of African deaf communities'. In B. Carty & S. Lutalo-Kiingi (Eds.). Colonialism in Deaf History. The Proceeding of the 10th Deaf History International Conference (DHI), UTS Function Centre University, 18th – 21st July 2018. Washington DC: Gallaudet University Press.
- Lutalo-Kiingi, S., De Clerck, G., Lule, D., & Turner, G. (in press a). 'Sign language Interpreter Education in Uganda'. In: J. Napier, S. Webb & R. Adam (Eds.). International Perspectives on Interpreter Education, Edition 2. Washington DC: Gallaudet University Press.
- De Clerck, G. & Lutalo-Kiingi, S. (2017). Ethical and methodological responses to risks in fieldwork with deaf Ugandans. Contemporary Social Science. Doi: 10.1080/21582041.2017.1347273

References

- Lutalo-Kiingi, S. & De Clerck, G. (2016). The sign language factor in Sub-Saharan Africa: Perspectives and challenges of sustainability. In: G. De Clerck & Peter V. Paul (Eds.). Sign Language, sustainable development, and equal opportunities (pp. 159- 187). Washington, DC, USA: Gallaudet University Press.
- Lutalo-Kiingi, S. & De Clerck, G. (2015a). Promoting deaf citizenship in Sub-Saharan Africa. Partnership between deaf Communities, academia, and NGOs in deaf empowerment. In: A.C. Cooper & K.K. Rashid (Eds.): Signed Languages in Sub-Saharan Africa: Politics, Citizenship and Shared Experiences of Difference (pp. 29-63). Washington DC: Gallaudet University Press.
- Lutalo-Kiingi, S. & De Clerck, G. (2015b). Ugandan Sign Language. In: J. Bakken Jepsen, G. De Clerck, S. Lutalo-Kiingi, & B. McGregor, B. (Eds.). Sign languages of the world: A comparative handbook. Berlin: Mouton de Gruyter.
- Wallin, L., Lule, D., Lutalo-Kiingi, S., & Busingye, B. (2006). Ugandan Sign Language Dictionary, 1st Edition. Kampala: Kyambogo University.

Thank you for your attention!

slutalo-kiingi@kyu.ac.ug

